Learn From A Team Of Designers Who Have Made A Name For Themselves With Over 10 Years Of Experience Creating Captivating Visuals And Logos For Leading Brands, All While Earning Millions...

Hi, I am Martin Kreene

</image of guru>

When I first started, I had no idea I'd end up as a logo designer.

Like most people, I stumbled my way here.

I fell in love with design first, just the idea of creating something from nothing.

Then I got into graphic design, playing around with colors, shapes, and layouts. It wasn't long before I discovered logos, and when I did... everything clicked.

It wasn't just about making something look good, it was the simplicity, the challenge of pairing the perfect typeface, and the way a logo could tell an entire story with just a few lines or curves.

I couldn't explain it, but every time I saw a well-designed logo, it sparked something inside me.

I knew, right then and there, that this was it. I wanted to be a logo designer.

But wanting wasn't enough, I needed to learn.

So, I took courses. Big ones. I studied under Sagi Haviv, the genius behind logos like Mobil and Harvard University Press.

I learned from Will Paterson and other heavyweights in the industry. Every lesson, every tip, shaped me into the designer I am today.

Hi, I'm Jeremiah Fashola

</image of guru>

I didn't start my career as a logo designer.

In fact, I was working at a digital marketing agency, and design was the last thing on my mind.

Then one day, the designer was unavailable, and guess what? I decided to jump into Canva and give it a shot.

To my surprise, the designs I created were a hit! My boss and the team were amazed, saying my work was even better than the previous designer's.

That week, my boss declared, "Jerry, you're our new designer!" Suddenly, I was responsible for all the designs for various brands.

Each day, I was whipping up new creations, and I loved every minute of it. Using Canva was fun, but I soon felt limited by its templates. I wanted to create more from my imagination, so I started searching for better tools.

That's when I discovered Photoshop and met my design mentor.

He introduced me to Corel Draw and gave me assignments to build my skills. It was during this time that I first saw a logo presentation document. I was blown away! I had always thought logos were just icons thrown together, but I learned they carried deep meanings and stories.
